Palmer & Williams have recently done some very fine tombstone work for parties living in Abilene. It has been pronounced far ahead of anything heretofore done in Kansas.

The ladies of the Lutheran Church are preparing to hold a festival on the eve of February 14th, next.

The Lutheran Church has recently been repaired in fine style. A new roof covers the building, finely tinted paper adorns the walls, the windows have been frosted and pews painted. The aisles and altar are to be carpeted. The church has only an indebtedness of about $200, and in the last six months all these improvements have been made and a parsonage built. A pretty good showing on the part of the energetic new pastor.

A few months ago Hanna was complaining bitterly about his treatment at the hands of the Republicans, at whose behalfs he had labored so vigorously for so many years, without pay. He complained that he was nearly bankrupt and must have something to build up his decaying fortune. He said that he could not make a living with his newspaper. Since then he has received a U. S. Land office appointment paying him $3,000 a year and now has all the country prize. He ought to be able to make a comfortable living now and strengthen up the tottering Herald.

After much correspondence—several times meeting with positive refusal—the management of the M. E. Church lecture course have succeeded in securing Ex-Vice President Schuyler Colfax to lecture in Salina on Thursday evening, February 7th, two weeks from this evening. The success of the plan adopted for General Kilpatrick's lecture has induced the management to again sell reserved seats without extra charge. The price of admission is 50 cents, whether one selects a reserved seat or not. The sale of reserved tickets will begin next Monday at Whitehead & Seaman's bookstore. There will be a jam to hear this eminent man and brilliant orator.

Nathan S. Robinson, only son of B. F. and S. A. Robinson, departed this life on the 15th inst., aged two years and one week. The deceased had been a sufferer from scrofula, but hopes were entertained that he was entirely restored from its effects. About three weeks before his death, he was taken sick, and when a physician was called it was decided that he had tuberculosis on the brain, and hopes of his recovery despaired of. His funeral took place at the Star school house on the 17th inst., at 2 o'clock. A large concourse of people were present to sympathize with the deeply afflicted parents. Little Nathan was a bright little boy, and the stroke falls heavily upon the family.

E. F. HILL.

We do not know which particular editor of the Herald (for their name is legion) wrote the article on Frank Davis last week. Whenever a politician gets a grudge against the Journal the editorial columns of the Herald are placed at his disposal, and he becomes the editor for the week, to be supplanted in turn the next week by some other politician with a grudge. We assert now as we have asserted before that Frank Davis was brought into the last stages of consumption by being confined in that villainous, filthy jail, and that he went into the same a strong, healthy man. This statement is based upon the statement of his own physician, Dr. Jenney, one of our best medical men. And Dr. Jenney makes this statement to every one who asks him concerning the matter. Dr. Jenney not only states this but says that three other suffered materially in health from being confined in that filthy place. We hope the Herald in its devotion to its "choice" for sheriff will not allow the little printing that paper may get from the sheriff's office to close its eyes to the fact that the county jail a few weeks ago, while under Long's management, was filthier than it had ever been before.

Sherman's March to the Sea.

About 350 people assembled at the M. E. Church last Saturday evening to hear General Kilpatrick talk of the wonderful march of Sherman to the Sea. We believe no one went home disappointed. Something over an hour was taken up in the delivery of this brilliant lecture, but we believe that the audience would have consented to remain an hour longer, could the General have kept on in the same strain. His description of the battles of Lookout Mountain and Mission Ridge were as if an artist with masterly skill had put them on canvas for the benefit of that particular audience. In imagination the audience stood peering through clouds, flame and smoke watching the progress of the troops up the rocky heights. Kilpatrick's power of sudden transition from the sublime to the gay is wonderful, too. He gave his audience a very truthful picture of that peculiar character of soldier life, the "bummer." He painted him as somewhat Quixotic in character, but a patriot of the noble type, and the "bravest of the brave." Kilpatrick tells a story first-rate, and when he commenced telling the laughable incidents of the march his audience was roaring with laughter all the while. His peroration was very much admired. This is the third lecture in the course and as successful as any of them. The manner of seating the audience proved a success, and will undoubtedly be imitated in future lectures. The ushers performed their services admirably.

St. Valentine's Festival.

On Thursday evening, February 14th, at Athletic Hall, a festival will be given by the ladies of the Lutheran Church. The tickets will admit gentleman and lady. The gentleman will receive a valentine at the door. A post office will be arranged for the distribution of the valentines. There will be music and stereoscopic views, and a general good time will be had. The young people particularly should not fail to be present. The proceeds are to be devoted towards the purchase of an organ for the church.

Many Ladies

Suffering from Nervousness, Painful Periods and Debility, will find there is no way in which their health may be so effectively regained, relief from pain obtained, and functional regularity established, as in the use of Parker's Ginger Tonic. The nursing mother, exhausted by the care of her little one, finds her strength and nerves restored by its use, while the mother's comfort thus secured, is imparted through the milk to her babe, making the little one happy, cheerful, free from pain, and disposed to refreshing sleep. Buy a $1.00 bottle from your druggist, Oscar Seitz, Salina, or a sample bottle at 15 cts, and test its merits.

An Elegant Preparation,

Designed to meet the public want for a harmless hair dressing and restorative, is found in Parker's Hair Balsam. It acts like magic, commencing at the very roots, removes dandruff and all humors from the scalp, and never fails to restore gray or faded hair to its original youthful color and beauty. Falling hair is immediately checked by its use, and it produces a growth of beautiful young hair, soft, glossy and luxuriant, that surprises every one. These properties added to its exquisite perfume and purity of composition, render it the growing favorite of the toilet table everywhere. Buy a bottle from your druggist, O. Seitz, Salina, Kansas, and test its merits.

The mud is drying up "around the edges."

Another section has been added to the Christian church tower.

A. M. Willers is soliciting subscribers for a proposed map of Salina.

Mrs. Ross, mother of Mrs. W. M. Clarkson, started for Clyde, Ohio, on Monday morning.

Mr. Wm Sullivan has gone to Leavenworth on business connected with his tanning mill works.

Mr. John Harshbarger has returned from the Black Hills country and his familiar face is again seen on our streets.

Mr. Gammel, of Sparta, Illinois, has been visiting his brothers-in-law, Messrs. David and William Addison, during the past week.

Messrs. Ober, Wilson & Co. have built a mammoth corn crib on Santa Fe and will soon have in corn enough to feed the country.

The Presbyterians have now "a bright and shining light" in front of their Church to light the faithful up and down the entrance steps.

Mr. Joe. Duncan, of Brookville, was in town on Friday last. Mr. Duncan is building up a fine trade in business at Brookville by his enterprise.

Sealed proposals for medical attendance of the poor and prisoners of Saline county are to be received by the commissioners on February 24.

A large party of young folks surprised Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Smith last Tuesday evening, and were very pleasantly entertained by the surprised family.

The firm of Wm. Sullivan & Co. will soon commence the manufacture of wind mills at their fanning mill establishment. They will also increase the manufacture of the popular Climax fanning mill this season.

Mr. J. W. Russell, the new jailor, proposes giving that villainous jail a thorough cleaning out. By scrubbing, burning straw in the cells, and using lime he will get the same into a pretty good condition.

Those who braved the storm and mud last Friday evening, to accept the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Jones, were more than repaid by the pleasant and elegant entertainment they found awaiting them.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Rash celebrated the anniversary of their wedding, Tuesday evening, at their charming home on Eighth street, by giving a tea-party to a few of their young lady and gentleman friends.

The Gypsum creek people are having all the sport this season. Having captured the wolves, Mr. Johnathan Tinkler and the Tiel brothers have been having considerable sport chasing deer and antelope. They succeeded in capturing five deer and two antelope, and will soon start out after more.

Mr. G. C. Guthrie, of Brookville, telegraphed us yesterday afternoon that the mill company has agreed to build a mill at that place, if the Brookville people will lay the foundation, dig a well, etc. There is to be a meeting at the school house on Saturday, at 2 o'clock p. m., to talk the matter up.

Mr. R. L. McConnell came down from Salina yesterday, where he is employed in the Land Department of the Kansas Pacific railroad. Dick is looking well and is as "toney" as Salina can produce them. He has been employed in this office as head clerk for five years the twentieth of this month, and we will say in the words of S. J. Gilmore, that the Kansas Pacific railroad never had an employee more valuable to them than Richard—Lawrence Tribune, January 17th, 1878.

Mr. George Woolley made the most decided party "hit" of the season, last Tuesday evening, in giving a phantom party at his home, to his young lady and gentlemen friends. Soon after 9 o'clock there were assembled the most ghostly looking perambulators one could conceive of, and for two hours they moved about through the spacious rooms and halls, giving vent to spiritual grunts and uttering another of the presence of "they father's ghost," or "somebody's" looking, love, pull down the blind." After 11 o'clock the sheets and pillowcases were removed, and the exclamations of surprise were as numerous as the company. It was far into the "small hours" when the company separated and parted from that delightful entertainment which is always provided guests at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Woolley.

Brookville Column.

Beautiful weather again, but the roads are still fearful since the snow. Our streets have been almost deserted.

Mr. Grier was in town yesterday (Monday), selling some of the property of Mr. McCafferty, by virtue of an execution or mortgage. "Jimmie" is having a hard time of it.

Mrs. Henry has rented her building on Anderson's avenue, to a firm in the harness business.

L. C. Warner thinks that under the circumstances it is more comfortable to stand than to sit.

Mr. Elledge is building a house on Second street, which he intends to rent when completed.

Two solitary loads of wheat came in Tuesday.

Mrs. Geo. Crawshaw, formerly Miss Clara Coombs, arrived on the up freight, on a visit to her old home. We have not forgotten her smiling countenance (which by the way she has for every one). She is to remain with us only a week or two. Her home is now in Palestine, Texas, where George is train dispatcher.

There was an exhibition at the school house, on the magic lantern principle, last night. Rev. Miller, from Ellsworth, engineered the machine. The house was crowded and everybody seemed well pleased.

I again send you the minutes of the meeting of the city council, at their regular meeting last evening. Present, Mayor Cunningham, Councilmen Brownson, Anderson and G. W. Gentry. Minutes of previous meeting read and approved. Bill of city marshal for $1.50, for serving notices, was by a vote of all members present allowed. The resignation of police judge Hogaboom, dated

January 9th, 1878, was read by the clerk as follows:

To the mayor and council of the city of Brookville: I do hereby tender to you my resignation of the office of police judge, to take effect this same day, January 9th, and do respectfully and positively decline to act in that capacity.

Yours truly,
Geo. C. Hogaboom.

The resignation of the police judge was by a unanimous vote, accepted.

The mayor appointed the following committee to examine files on Anderson avenue, and when necessary have the same perfected: R. B. Cunningham and W. H. Gentry. Committee on procuring hook and ladder, G. W. Gentry, C. W. Anderson and F. Brownson.

In the items from Brookville in the Ellsworth Reporter last week the correspondent talking of the dance which came off Friday week, after telling what had been done, says: "And after leaving the school house, culminated in a street scene, that a decent devil would be ashamed of. Still our 'city fathers' say whiskey is a good thing and encourage its sale, even without license." The following letter from one of the "city fathers" to the Reporter, was handed me to copy this morning:

"Editor Reporter—To correct an error which appeared in your columns last week, I wish you would make public the fact that I have conferred with all but one (Mr. Ingraham) of the city council, of Brookville, and find that none of them say whiskey is a good thing, nor are they in favor of encouraging its sale without license. They have no objection to the 'decent devil' being ashamed of the street scene, but he does more harm exposing men's faults publicly, than good. Better talk to them as Christ did to the erring sister. But some of us are even greater than Christ."

I think myself that the correspondent of the Reporter is rather hard on the town he lives in.

G.

Last week Wednesday Frank Jones was found, near the railroad track, insensible, having had a rush of blood to the head.

Work has been commenced on H. Elledge's new house. Taft Bros. have the contract for carpenter work.

J. Duncan has finished his new house. There is some talk of a hardware store, bakery, harness shop, and a fair prospect of an agricultural implement house soon being opened here. Now let some enterprising man build a good flour mill, and the thing lacking to make our little town flourish will be complete. The right kind of a man, (one who is a practical miller) would find the people of Brookville ready to subscribe quite an amount to the building of a mill.

Last Friday, Mr. Bartlett of Salina was here procuring names on an application for charter for Sons of Temperance. We hope that many will take an interest in this work, for there is great need of something being done to stop this terrible evil, that is causing ruin to many a good man and sorrow to his family.

Rev. Miller of Ellsworth lectured here last Monday evening. His subject, A Trip to Naples. There was a large number out to hear him. The lecture was one of interest, describing many of the places about Naples—costumes of the people, etc.

The pleasant weather we have been having the past few days has dried up the roads, so that what is again being brought in, and business is better; but the present prices for wheat will keep much of it back, that would come forward if the buyers could pay 95 cents to $1.00 for the better grade.

Monday, deputy sheriff Grier sold at public sale, a horse for $35.00. Mr. Lambert was the purchaser. Box.

Quite a laughable conversation took place, a few days ago, near the corner of Anderson and Perry streets. Farmer J., just driving into town with a load of wheat, hailed Farmer T., who had sold his load and had in his wagon a load of coal and lumber. It ran as near as I can remember as follows:

T. "Say, Tripp, who did you sell your wheat to?"

J. "I sold to Fairbanks."

J. "And who did you buy your coal and lumber from?"

T. "I bought both from Fairbanks."
